

Commanding Officer
2d Low Altitude Air Defense Battalion
Safety Policy Statement

As Marines, our jobs are inherently dangerous. This does not mean we avoid risk, but we must ensure we apply appropriate measures in all our activities so we can eliminate unnecessary risk and minimize all other risk to an acceptable level.

The tenets of 2d LAAD Bn's safety policy can be easily broken down into four actions:

1. Apply risk management in accordance with MCO 3500.27C
2. Supervise
3. Teach
4. Act

It is that simple Marines. If you need assistance, or have a suggestion on how to make this Battalion safer contact the Battalion Safety Officer 1stLt Holmquist at (252) 466-5939.

The Marine Corps has invested a lot of time and money into you, your training, and your equipment so we can bring the fight to the enemy when our nation calls. Do not give our enemies an inch by falling victim to complacency.

Semper Fidelis,

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "T. F. Brady, Jr.".

T. F. BRADY, JR

Lieutenant Colonel, USMC

Commanding Officer

2d Low Altitude Air Defense Battalion